In India, English-medium education was started in the 19th century - when India was the Crown Jewel of the British Colonial Empire. Over 150 years of English medium education and language diversity in various states of India have resulted in English being the only common language that unites modern India.

Today, many Indians have an English proficiency level that is at par with native English speakers. High English proficiency of Indian professionals going to the USA is one of the reasons for their astounding success in the USA.

American Call Centers in India

The new generations of English speakers in India identify themselves with the modern American culture and prefer the American accent. The growing number of American Call Centers in India that cater to North American customers is a testimony to India's American English accent and proficiency.

The growing trend among many Asian students is instead of going to the USA for a 4-year Bachelor's Degree, many students prefer to go to India for a 4 year Bachelor's Degree and then go to the USA for a 2-year Masters Degree.

For Example:

Option 1: 4-year Bachelor's degree education USA

Total cost of 4-year Bachelor's degree education in USA:
 $84,000 or higher

Option 2: 4-year Bachelor's Degree in India + 2-year Masters Degree in the USA

Cost of 4-year Bachelor's degree education in India:
 $16,000 or higher
 +
 Cost of 2-year Master's degree in USA:
 $42,000 or higher
 =
 Total = $58,000 or higher

In the USA, the cost for a 2-year Master's degree program is usually lower due to the fact that more financial aid is available for Graduate students than for under-grad students.
